NUMBER 48

Judge Though He Looked It.

In the Supreme Court in Brooklyn a woman was trying to convince Justice Marean that she ought to have a separation from her husband, John, because he was a drunkard, and sometimes drank as much as a pint of whisky before breakfast.

Justice Marean looked searchingly at a florid, full-faced man sitting at the right of the defendant's counsel. Having completed the scrutiny, he turned to the lawyer and said sharply:

"It seems reasonable. It looks as though he was capable of it." A queer expression crossed the lawyer's face and broke into a grin.

"That isn't my client," he said. "He isn't in court. We understood that this case would be tried in the afternoon."

"I hope your honor is not referring to me," said the man who had been taken for a horrible example and who is a member of the bar.

Explanations were lost in a burst of laughter, in which the justice and the victim of mistaken identity joined.—New York Sun.

Pullman Company Files Suit.

The Pullman Company filed suit at Chicago for an injunction restraining the Interstate Commerce Commission from enforcing its order lowering the rates of sleeping-car berths. The bill attacks the jurisdiction of the commission.

Tennessee Democrats

Hold Convention.

At a mass convention of Tennessee Democrats in Nashville an independent ticket was named for Judges of the Supreme Court and Court of Civil Appeals. Attacks were made on Gov. Patterson by the speakers and the resolutions praise the candidates who "have taken a stand for an untrammeled judiciary in Tennessee." Reference to the late Senator Carmack elicited a prolonged demonstration.

A self-made man who isn't proud of his job is a great man. Also, very rare.

New Secretary to Governor.

Governor Willson has appointed Capt. Jackson Morris to be his private secretary to succeed McKenzie R. Todd, who resigned to become State Inspector and Examiner. Capt. Morris has been Assistant Secretary of State since the present Republican State administration went into office. Capt. Morris will be succeeded as Assistant Secretary of State by Sherman Ball, now bank clerk in the office.

Illegal.

The Court of Appeals in an exhaustive opinion decided that any contract made in restraint of trade is illegal, void and cannot be enforced. The case was that of the Merchants Ice and Cold Storage Company, of Louisville, against John Rohman. Rohman sold his ice business to the Cold Storage Company and signed a contract not to engage in the manufacturing or sale of ice for ten years. The court says the contract is in restraint of trade and void.

To Increase Rates.

Information has reached the Interstate Commerce Commission that the transcontinental railroad lines next autumn will advance the freight rates on all forest products, and, perhaps, on other commodities from the North Pacific states to Eastern destinations.

Good Resolution.

A report was made at the closing session of the convention of the National Manufacturers' Association in New York urging that girls shall not be employed at such labors as will incapacitate them as mothers and housemakers. President Kirby attacked the American Federation of Labor and National City Federation.

MILE OF KNIGHTS PARADE STREETS OF WINCHESTER

Commanderies From All Over The State Present at Conclave.

Delegations from all over the state attended the Knights Templar Conclave. Many of them had their own bands and nearly all are accompanied by ladies.

Upon arrival they were escorted to Templar headquarters in the fraternity building, where they registered and were assigned to quarters. The Brown-Proctoria and St. George Hotels were crowded and scores were taken care of in private dwellings.

On Wednesday morning the Sir Knights and their ladies were early astir. Martial strains of music were heard from time to time as a new commandery arrived.

WELCOMED AT CHURCH.

At 8:30 the commanderies took up the march to the First Christian Church. The church was crowded with Sir Knights for whom the lower floor had been reserved. The balconies were filled with visitors and townspeople. Miss Sue Buckner gave an organ recital from 9 to 9:30. Mrs. F. B. Wentworth presided at the organ during the services, and picked voices from various churches made up the choir. Sir Knight Charles N. Smith, of Danville, conducted the services. In the absence of Sir Knight F. B. Wentworth, the Hon. John E. Garner made the address of welcome. The response was by Hon. Breckinridge Castleman, of Louisville. The opening hymn was sung by the entire congregation, standing.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES.

The Grand Prelate read the opening sentences from the Official Oath and then all Sir Knights knelt and repeated the General Confession. All rose and repeated the Lord's Prayer. Then the choir leading, all sang "Gloria In Excelsis." The lesson from Scripture was then read. The choir sang Te Deum Laudamus and all recited the Apostles' Creed.

Rev. W. F. Vaughn, of Somerset, delivered the sermon. The subject taken was "Opportunities." After the sermon a contribution for the poor was taken, which amounted to several hundred dollars. Following a collection, a solo, "The Heavenly Song," was rendered by Miss Elizabeth Rash, of Lexington. Rev. C. E. Crafton pronounced the benediction.

PARADE A MILE LONG.

Following the religious services the line of march was formed for the parade. The first company in the line was Winchester Commandery, headed by the Winchester Military Band. Next in order came Louisville, headed by a band; Lexington, headed by a drum corps; Frankfort, Montgomery, Covington, Maysville, Cynthiana, Danville, each headed by a band; Carlisle Commandery; Richmond, headed by a band; Lebanon Commandery, Paris, headed by a band; Ashland, headed by a band, and the officers of the Grand Commandery in automobiles.

All the companies were well drilled and the handsome uniforms and bands added to a splendid display. The procession was over a mile in length and there were eleven bands. The review by the Grand officers took place in front of the court house.

ELDT OFFICERS.

At a business session the Grand

Conclave of the Knights Templar, elected the following officers.

Sir Knight John G. Cramer, Grand Commander.

Sir Knight William Woeman, Deputy Grand Commander.

Sir Knight Lee D. Ray, Grand Generalissimo.

Sir Knight Thomas P. Satterwhite, Grand Captain General.

Sir Knight Mason P. Brown, Grand Senior Warden.

Sir Knight Charles N. Smith, Grand Junior Warden.

Sir Knight Henry P. Barrett, Grand Prelate.

Sir Knight Robert C. Stockton, Grand Treasurer.

Sir Knight Alfred H. Bryant, Grand Recorder.

Sir Knight Arthur N. Richardson, Grand Standard Bearer.

Sir Knight Frederick W. Hardwick, Grand Sword Bearer.

Sir Knight Taylor M. Estes, Grand Warden.

Sir Knight Albert A. Hazelrigg, Grand Captain of the Guard.

Resolutions were passed expressing appreciation of the entertainment tendered by Winchester.

MONTGOMERY COMMANDERY ENTERTAINS.

Montgomery Commandery No. 5 entertained at the residence of Past Eminent Commander and Mrs. D. T. Matlack on Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. The decorations were done in large white and pink carnations and gracious informality prevailed. The Sir Knights and ladies of the commandery formed the reception line and each guest was greeted with smiling cordiality. Pink and white carnations were given as souvenirs and delightful and refreshing punch was served. Exquisite music added greatly to the occasion.

LEXINGTON NEXT TIME.

Lexington will have the next meeting of the Knight Templars, May 18, 19 and 20, 1911.

Curing a Felon.

For a felon take common rock salt, as used for salting down pork or beef, dry in an oven, then pound it fine and mix with spirits of turpentine in equal parts, put it in a rag and wrap it around the parts affected. As it gets dry put on more and in 24 hours you are cured, says a writer. The felon will be dead.

Getting On.

The man who is not afraid gets on.

It isn't the chap who is always carefully trying the ice with a timid foot who skates across the pond; it is the one who, taking all things into consideration, strikes out boldly.

Same way with business. You can't sit still and expect the world to bring its orders in on a silver platter. You have to mix boldness with brains, and go out for them yourselves!

The man who is afraid to take responsibility will never be troubled with taking large profits from his business. The pusher may be obnoxious at times; but the pusher is one hundred per cent better than the stand-stiller.

All the feather-bed world loves a lover. But all the business world loves the man who dares—if he does a little thinking along with his daring. Shirking responsibility, holding back so that you may get every possible angle on the question before you go ahead, hesitating, pondering past the physiological moment—these are the things that have kept the failures you know just where they are.

Getting on means getting busy. It means taking the initiative when others hesitate; recognizing opportunity a square away, and realizing that tomorrow is a day that never gets here! Don't be foolhardy in your energy. But don't forget that the God of Success likes a Goer!

All things come to those who wait—on themselves.—Chicago News.

The aeronautist is the only man who gets real profit out of "going up in the air."

ANSWERS EVERY CALL.

Mt. Sterling People Have Found That This is True.

Spells of backache often follow, Or some irregularity of the uric.

A certain remedy for such attacks.

A medicine that answers every call.

Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a true specific.

Many Mt. Sterling people rely on it.

Here is Mt. Sterling proof: John W. Forman, 8 Montgomery St., Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "I think my kidney trouble was the result of overexertion. I was compelled to give up all work that required stooping on account of a weak and lame back. I was often laid up for several days at a time and finally I began to look around for a cure. I did not find anything of benefit until I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at F. C. Duerson's Drug Store. I was soon well and strong after beginning their use, and now I am entirely free from kidney trouble. I am pleased to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement."

Do You Gamble?

Some people do by spending their time and labor and money by housing a crop of hay, oats and other farm produce, and keeping thousands of dollars invested in live stock housed in barns, and gamble with themselves that it will not burn. DO YOU?

Other people place their savings in a home and handsome furniture and then gamble on their luck that it will not burn. DO YOU?

Still others invest thousands in factories, mills, warehouses and other things subject to fire, and think they can, by careful watching, prevent a fire. DO YOU?

To all persons gambling with themselves against loss by fire, wind or tornado, we would suggest you give the matter careful consideration. Can you afford to take chances of losing part or all of your accumulations for a lifetime by gambling on your luck? We think not. See us before it is too late, and do not gamble with yourself.

SUBSCRIPTION ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR

The State Board of Equalization (?) has finished its labors, increasing the assessment in ninety-three out of one hundred and nineteen counties of the State from five to twenty-five per cent. In Montgomery county a general increase, upon both city and county property, of five per cent, was ordered, in face of the fact that the assessment this year was increased $184,595 over last year. Chairman Garner is from Winchester. Clark county was not increased a penny. Nuf Ced.

Stenographer Kerby "let the cat out of the bag" by informing the Investigating Committee that Assistant Attorney General Lawler drafted the letter of exoneration sent Secretary Ballinger by President Taft, and "for the good of the service" was promptly dismissed. Judging from the tone of Mr. Ballinger's letter of dismissal, Mr. Kerby, in the language of a fellow-townsmen, seems to have "aroused his irascibles."

Editor Harry Summers suggests for debating societies this question: "Which administration has been the greatest failure, President Taft's or Governor Willson's?" The Lexington Herald, however, protests, upon the ground that it could but result in a dog-fall

The Hon. W. T. Stafford, of Johnson county, candidate against Congressman Langley for the Republican nomination in this district, seems not to relish the free use of the Langley-Cannon-Ballinger-Taft steam-roller on him.

Auditor Frank James, we are informed, voted in favor of giving every county in the State a square deal in the matter of taxation, again proving "There is nothing in a name."

In the name of the taxpayers of the State, we suggest that Mr. Hatchett of the State Board of Insurrection change his name to Tomahawk.

Holland Law Held to Be Unconstitutional.

The Holland bill, which was passed by the Legislature last March over the Governor's veto, and which prohibits the operation of an industrial school in any voting precinct unless the majority of the voters assent, was held to be unconstitutional by Judge Shackelford Miller, who handed down an opinion to that effect at joint session, in the case of the Lincoln Institute of Kentucky against the Columbia Trust Company.

The suit was brought to test the law, which was enacted primarily for the purpose of preventing the establishment by the plaintiff of a large industrial school for the negroes near Simpsonville, Shelby county, on the lines of the Tuskegee Institute.

Judge Miller sustained the demurrer of the plaintiff to the answer, thus overruling the contentions of the defendant in behalf of the Legislature's action. He declared that it is class legislation of the most pronounced character; and that "under the practical operation of this act, it is doubtful if this school could be conducted in any desirable location in the State." By this action the Legislature, the court held, went beyond its power.

Italians Acquitted.

Four Italians, who have been working on the new sewer system, were tried before Judge G. A. McCormick and acquitted Saturday, upon the charge of malicious shooting and wounding, while two of them were fined $50 and costs and given ten days in jail for carrying concealed weapons. A number of young white boys, all nearly grown, undertook to run the Italians near the Owingsville crossing. Several rocks were thrown and finally one Italian was hit and quite a number of shots were fired at the boys. One shot struck a boy named Herbert Thomas in the top of the head, paring his hair and inflicting a slight scalp wound. Public sentiment is strongly in favor of the Italians it being generally thought the boys were blame and should also be punished.

Montgomery Commandery Entertains.

The reception given by Montgomery Commandery Knights Templar in Winchester was pronounced one of the most beautiful given during the Conclave. The handsome home of Past Eminent Commander, D. G. Matlack, which was headquarters for the Commandery, was profusely decorated with white gladioli and carnations and made a charming picture. The guests were received in the spacious reception hall by the host and hostess, assisted by Sir Knights S. S. Pinney and A. A. Hazelrigg. The flower table was presided over by Misses Robertson, Day and Bittinger. Punch was served in the library by Misses Fannie Tipton and Mary Tyler.

Saxton's band, which was employed by the Commandery during the Conclave, was stationed on the broad piazza and discoursed sweet strains during the reception while the hundreds of guests passed through the parlors and were received with smiling cordiality by the Knights and ladies of the Commandery.

Among those who attended the Conclave from here were:

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Pinney, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Griggs. Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Oldham, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Day, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. COMMENCEMENT

Exercises of the Mt. Sterling Collegiate Institute.

The annual Commencement exercises for 1910 of Mt. Sterling Collegiate Institute will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at Institute Place. A very extensive and entertaining program has been arranged for the exercises. Dr. Charles C. Freeman, head of the English department of Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., will deliver the address to the graduates. The five members of the graduating class will take an active and appropriate part on the program. Diplomas will be awarded and medals will be given to the honor students in scholarship and general merit. Also announcements for the session of 1910-11 will be made by Prof. R. I. Cord, president of the Institute. The program for the Commencement exercises follows:

Awarding of Medals.

Announcements.

Chorus—"New Hail Columbia."

Benediction.

The Franco-Italian Musical Recital given last Friday evening by the pupils of Miss Emma Lee Sleet, teacher of music at the Mt. Sterling Collegiate Institute, was a marked success. The program consisting of both voice and instrumental music was most entertaining and highly appreciated by the large crowd which attended the exercises. The chapel room at Institute Place was filled to its utmost capacity and a number had to stand in adjoining halls and porches.

The work of Miss Sleet with her large class this year has been most successful. Leaving here the latter part of May, Miss Sleet will go to Cincinnati, where she will attend the series of faculty and student's musical recitals, of the College of Music, of Cincinnati, held from June 1st to 7th. Miss Sleet is a former graduate of that institution.

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class was delivered last Sunday evening at the Christian church by the Rev. H. D. Clark, who spoke to the subject of "Looking to the Unseen." The address was most able, instructive and entertaining. The church was decorated in the colors of the school and with potted ferns. Special seats were reserved for the five graduates and Prof. R. I. Cord, President of the Institution.

The members of the graduating class are Misses Mary Belle Sweetnam, Edna Hamilton, Olive Stephens Sallie Eubank, and Mr. Ralph D. Greene.

Candidate in the Tenth declares
He Has Not Been Treated
Fairly By Leaders.

W. T. Stafford, who declares himself and "Insurgent Republican, against Cannonism, Aldrichism and all other isms that are robbing labor," has addressed the following letter to R. H. Winn, Republican chairman of the Tenth Congressional District, of this city:

"My Dear Sir:—desiring to make the race for Congress, and having so stated this desire to my friends last fall I feel that I have not been treated fairly in the matter of the time of the call of the county conventions which has been set for May 28th.

"I had no knowledge of the call of the committee, and for that reason, was deprived of an opportunity of attending the committee meeting. Besides I am a farmer and the month of May is a very busy and important month to the farmer and consequently the time of the convention did not give one of my profession any chance whatever to canvass this district in the interest of his nomination.

"There is only one thing to do in the name of Teddy, give every a 'square deal.' The time of the convention is not in the interest of the farmer and laboring people. A convention that is in the interest of Lang-up and 'cut and dried' affairs.

"As District Chairman, I ask you to call the attention of the District committee to this protest and arrange a later date.

"Very truly yours,
"W. T. STAFFORD."

Dedication of New State Capitol.

Reports received at Frankfort by those in charge of the dedication of the Capitol, on June 2, are to the effect that at least 3,000 persons will come to Frankfort from Louisville alone on that day and the Louisville and Nashville railroad will be taxed to its utmost to provide cars to haul the passengers who are coming to Frankfort from other points. One of the passenger agents of the Louisville and Nashville estimates, according to McKenzie R. Todd, State Inspector and Examiner, who is one of the prime workers for the success of the dedication, that there will be 10,000 visitors in Frankfort on June 2, and that it will be one of the biggest, if not the biggest, events ever held in the Capital city.

COMMERCE AS A BUILDER

The Rage of Nature or of Men Powerful to Destroy the Great Centers of Trade.

The resurrection of Messina will be only another illustration of how difficult it is to destroy a city which sits on a trade route or which business center or school of industry. Commercial cities rise or decline with trade routes. Venice began to lose its primacy with the discovery of the Cape of Good Hope route to India. Nevertheless it was not ruined, and though its population is only three-fourths of that it had when it "held the gorgeous east in fee," its inhabitants today number 150,000. The mad men of the French revolution decreed that Lyons should be no more. They leveled the city which had resisted them to the ground, they wiped out its name, and in a dozen years Lyons, the center of the silk industry, the great distributing point of the region, was what it had been before the terrorists turned it into ruins. Today it is the third city of France. A great San Francisco looks out on the Golden Gate, despite the catastrophe of 1906. Cities are stubborn facts. It has been said that if New York were overwhelmed the necessities of the United States would compel the reconstruction of a great city where the Hudson reaches the sea.—Boston Transcript.

CHARM OF DUTCH KITCHEN

American Housewife Easily May Reproduce the Pretty Picture It Presents.

The attractiveness of the Dutch kitchen is admitted by every visitor to the land over which Queen Wilhelmina reigns, and no small part of the charm is due to the blue and white Delft utensils which serve as decorative as well as utilitarian purpose.

The jars and jugs, plates and patterned bottles and pitchers, spoons, ladles, etc., in clean white porcelain with lettering, ships and windmills, etc., in vivid blue make the kitchen where they are found a very pleasing workroom.

The American housewife who desires to fit up a Dutch kitchen will find an excellent collection of Delft utensils at her command. Some of the articles on the list are new and all are serviceable. In the line of caddies or cereal jars, there is practically no limit to the assortment, and the same is true with regard to platters for meat or fish.

The most recent additions to the Delft equipment for the kitchen are a bottle designed for salad oil, a cabbage cutter, colander and pitchers holding from one-half to four pints.

The Orang-Outang's Nest.

For the first time Londoners have now an opportunity of seeing an orang-outang in its "nest," or sleeping platform. Dr. Charles Hesse having recently presented to the British Museum a fine adult male of this Bornean ape, together with a specimen of the nest.

Dr. A. Russell Wallace in his "Malay Archipelago" states that orang-outangs build their sleeping platforms comparatively low down on relatively small trees at a height of from twenty feet to 50 feet above the ground, probably for the reason that such a situation is warmer and less exposed to wind than one higher up. According to Dyak report, each orang builds a fresh platform every night, but this, as Dr. Wallace remarks, is highly probable on account of the relatively small number of these structures to be met with. It may be added that the large amount of material in the nest in the British Museum affords further evidence of the same kind. Photographs are extant showing three or four orang's nests in a single tree.—The Field.

The Price of Fame.

It was in the office of one of the big theaters. A lot of actors were hanging around, a couple of journalists and a secretary or two. A young woman dropped in for a hasty greeting, and then paused a moment to speak to a very well-known actor whom she evidently met for the first time. The press agent's desk was open, and in a corner lay a packet of pictures of the celebrated actor. The latter looked them over, and as the young woman exclaimed that he should give her one he said, with an fascinating smile to the press agent: "Alas, they are not mine. They belong to Mr. Dashi!" "I can't give any away," said the latter. "Each one costs me 20 cents." "Surely that is cheap!" the young lady suggested. The press agent ignored her and turned to the actor. "Cheer? Do you think anybody would pay that much for your picture?" And the young lady laughed and went without her picture.

Two Virtuous Counties.

Venango and Forest counties in Pennsylvania are believed to hold a record for goodness. The former, with a population of nearly 60,000, has only one prisoner in its county jail, and he is a non-resident. Forest county, with nearly 10,000 residents, has no prisoners. This is the first time in 20 years that the Venango jail has thus been all but untenanted. The one prisoner is serving a year's sentence for robbery. The Forest county jail has been empty since Christmas eve, when the only prisoner escaped. The county officers were so anxious and Sheriff Maxwell made no effort to capture him.

Certificate Recital.

The Lexington Herald has the following to say of a recital which Miss Minnie Sue Graves, of this city, participated in:

"Daft Chapel at Campbell-Hoggerman College was crowded with patrons and friends for the beautiful program given by Miss Jessie May Lillard and Miss Minnie Graves certificate pupils of the piano department assisted by Miss Bernice Nethercutt of the expression department. The young artists are gifted and accomplished and the piano selections, which were charmingly and skillfully rendered, won for both pupils and their teacher many compliments from critics present. Miss Nethercutt's selections were delightfully given and her numbers added quite a pleasing feature to the delightful program."

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

Raises Rates of Assessment in 93 Counties.

At a meeting of the State Board of Equalization last Friday the assessed valuations of 93 counties of the State were raised.

In Jefferson county where the rate was raised 12 per cent, which amounts to $240,000, caused much criticism.

COUNTIES NOT AFFECTED.

The following counties were passed on by the board at its last session the raises being final: Accepted without any raise—Adair, Barren, Bell, Boyle, Breckinridge, Bullitt, Carter, Casey, Clarke, Greenup, Hart, Knott, Knox, Lincoln, Madison, Martin, Menifee, Mercer, Metcalfe, Monroe, Nelson, Pike, Trimble, Washington, Woodford, Fayette.

FIVE PER CENT. RAISE.

Five Per Cent. raise—Boone, Christian, Clay, Crittenden, Daviess, Elliott, Estill, Fleming, Fulton, Hancock, Jackson, Johnson, Larnie, Lee, Montgomery, Ohio, Rockcastle, Russell, Scott, Taylor, Union, Logan.

Ten Per Cent. Raise—Allen, Anderson, Bourbon, Boyd, Bracken, Breathitt, Butler, Calloway, Campbell, Carroll, Clinton, Cumberland, Edmonson, Floyd, Garrard, Grayson, Green, Jessamine, Laurel, Lawrence, Leslie, Letcher, Lewis, Livingston, Lyon, Mason, McCracken, Muhlenberg, Oldham, Owsley, Perry, Pulaski, Robertson, Rowan, Shelby, Simpson, Wayne, Whitley.

INCREASE IN OTHER COUNTIES.

Fifteen Per Cent. Raise—Gallatin, Graves, Hardin, Harlan, Henderson, Hopkins, Magoffin, Marshall, Meade, Nicholas, Owen.

Twelve Per Cent. Raise—Jefferson and Kenton.

Twenty Per Cent. Raise—McLean, Pendleton, Powell, Spencer, Todd, Wolfe, Bath, Caldwell, Grant, Henry, Hickman.

Twenty five Per Cent. Raise—Morgan, Ballard, Carlisle.

These assessments were on lands and with the following exceptions the same raise is made on all classes of property:

Allen, nothing on town lots; Ballard, 10 per cent. on town lots; Caldwell, nothing on town lots; Carlisle, nothing on town lots; Clinton, nothing on town lots; Franklin, 5 per cent. on lands and personally and 10 per cent. on town lots; Grant, 10 per cent. on town lots; Lee, nothing on town lots; Logan, nothing on town lots; Meade, no thing on town lots; Pendleton, 10 per cent. on town lots; Taylor, nothing on town lots; Todd, nothing on town lots.

Kill Them Deader Now.

A physician, at a dinner in Denver, sneered at certain Biblical miracles.

"Lazarus," he said, "was raised from the dead—and yet I don't see any dead folks being raised in our time."

"No," said the Rev. Herbert H. Tresham, the Biblical scholar, with a smile. "Modern medical science has progressed too far for that, eh?"

Adonis in Hard Luck.

A man once asked Thackeray to lend him five shillings, which he would convert into £40,000. Asked how he explained that he knew a young lady with £20,000 who he knew would marry him if he asked her, but he had pawned his teeth, and wanted five shillings to redeem them in order to propose effectively. — T. P.'s Weekly.

As She Understood It.

Small Margie while at church heard the choir sing "Rock of Ages, Clift for Me." Upon her return home she was heard singing, very seriously, "Rock the babies. kept for me."

COMET PASSES.

Many Mt. Sterling People Who Stayed Up to See the Comet Pass Last Wednesday Night Were Disappointed.

Although the weather was ideal, the hundreds of people that watched to see the earth pass through the tail of Halley's comet on last Wednesday night were disappointed. It was reported that it would be visible here about 11:20 p. m., but there were a few who watched until daylight and they all claim that it was not visible here at all.

Some of the negro population were badly scared up for fear the end of the world was near.

Quite a number of the weak-minded and a number of those who dwell in the slums of the larger cities committed suicide, fearing the world was near the end.

NEW YORK WAITS UP.

From the four great bridges across East river, from the decks of ferry boats, from the pier ends and wharves, from islands in the harbor, from roof tops and for the entire length of Riverside drive, people of Manhattan swarmed and clustered to peer into the sky for the incandescent tail of the receding comet. Some prayed, all watched and a few carried bottles in which to seal up the atmosphere for future analysis. What these analyses will show cannot be foretold, but there were no bodily indications of cyanogen gas.

Word received from the West that violent disturbances had been observed on the face of the sun added greatly to the curiosity of the crowd, who reasoned that if the sun was susceptible the earth might be. Laymen were not wanting who argued that showers of the morning and afternoon were attributed to the presence of dust in the air. The sky was overcast for the greater part of the day, and no observations of the sun were possible. But even if they had been, the fact remains that the greatest university center of the country is without a first-class telescope. L. R. Harold Jacoby Rutherford, professor of astronomy at Columbia University, said that the sun spots reported from various observatories in the West might be due to the passage of the comet across the face of the sun, or they might be merely fortuitous.

"The sun spot observed by Father Brennan," he said, "is unusually large, but not the largest recorded, if my memory serves me right. It would be impossible to say that the proximity of the comet to the sun is what we call a sun spot. On the other hand, such spots have appeared in the past when they couldn't possibly be attributed to a comet, and there you are."

ASTRONOMERS BAFFLED.

Almost continuous cloudy skies last Thursday and early Friday morning prevented astronomers at the Yerkes Observatory from securing any observations of the comet's phenomena. Hoping that the sky would be clear, the scientists remained at their posts in the observatory until after daybreak.

Following close upon the wholly unexpected astronomical condition that prevailed early Thursday morning—when the tail of Halley's comet was plainly seen in the East—astronomers at the Yerkes Observatory were further bewildered by a startling apparition across the face of the sun at noon.

A broad spectrum of light, extending across and a considerable distance to each side of the sun, challenged the attention of the vigilant, though weary, observers. For the second time in a dozen hours the little band of scientists were aroused to a point of much excitement.

PHENOMENA OF INTEREST.

Prof. E. B. Frost, who first sighted the phenomena, declared he had never before witnessed its like. Prof. E. E. Barnard said the same. Hoping to secure an accurate check on the strange spectrum, Prof. Frost at once telephoned observers within a radius of 100 miles of Williams Bay, calling attention to the peculiarity of the occurrence. The apparition continued for less than half an hour.

The spectrum at once became a topic for overmastering interest and conjecture. Enormous sun spots seen Wednesday afternoon, followed by brilliant displays of aurora lights at night, and these in turn succeeded by varied reports of fiery streamers shooting across the horizon to the southwest, had been passed by the astronomers as having absolutely no direct connection with the comet. But the spectrum became another story.

COMET CAUSE FOR SPECTRUM

"Although I cannot advance an opinion at this time," said Prof. Frost, "I can see no other cause but the comet for the appearance of the spectrum."

He seems to feel that the two are related in some way, as yet unexplained.

The passage of the tail of the comet, delayed a day in its schedule is believed to have taken place Friday night, although early observations did not give positive proof of this condition.

Many other learned heads give different views of the subject.

Increasing Crops by Live Stock.

Large crops and live stock go together. All hoofs are golden in their effect upon yields of grain upon the lining of a farmers' purse. The by-products of the farm—the straw and the volunteer growth incidental to the raising of cash crops—may be combined with the yield of a fraction of the land to produce meat and at the same time sustain and increase the grain yields of the entire farm.

Four years' work just completed on twenty-one demonstration farms in various sections of North Dakota have resulted in an increase of 50 to 100 per cent in the yield of wheat per acre following the withdrawal of part of the land for sustaining stock. The yields of wheat in that state have been under twelve bushels per acre under continuous cropping. The crops on the farms managed by experiment station to demonstrate a balanced agriculture indicate that anyone can as easily grow an average yield exceeding twenty bushels if he keeps enough stock to eat the corn produced on one-fifth of his land and the hay and oats produced on another one-fifth. This stock produces enough manure to cover one-fifth of his land each year in a moderate dressing. The three-fifths of the farm left in cash grain crops will yield a larger return than the whole farm did when only grain was grown.

The immediate and marked increase in crops from the introduction of stock has been convincing evidence of its wisdom. Last season the yields of wheat on the six original farms started on the test in 1906 averaged 27.5 bushels per acre; on the six farms started in 1907 the yield was 22.25 bushels, and on the eight started last year the yield was 14.5 bushels per acre. It costs practically as much to raise and harvest a small crop as a large one. The added bushels represent practically clear profit and measure a farmers' strides toward prosperity.

Beef Consumption Increasing.

Much encouragement for cattle breeders is found in market statistics for the expired portion of the current year. With the exception of the supply from Texas the marketward movement has been liberal and it has been mainly beef, the stocker output having been unusually light for the reason that killers have been using thin and light cattle more extensively than ever before. Some years ago apprehension existed that loss of export trade would demoralize domestic cattle markets, but the export outlet has been practically closed and yet prices have ruled at record levels. The cattle market of 1910 must not be measured by top prices as in their desire to cheapen cost on the hooks slaughterers have paid a premium for medium and common steers and butcher stuff, a fact that merely emphasizes the argument.

While Chicago's best price for the year is but $8.85 per cwt. the $6.50 to $7.75 class of cattle never sold as high before. Turning elsewhere the record is as instructive as it is encouraging. During April, south Texas cattle sold on the Fort Worth market at $7.75 per cwt. and Oklahoma steers realized $8.25 on the same market. Grassers reached $6.25. The butcher market has been even higher, $8 being paid for heifers at Chicago while plenty of cows and heifers moved at a range of $7 to $7.50. On the Fort Worth market heifers sold at $6 to $7.

All this means prompt consumption as killers do not accumulate a single carcass in excess of urgent orders when prices are at such altitudes. Although every principal market except Kansas City and Fort Worth was in receipt of more cattle than last year, when prices ruled $1.50 per cwt. lower, killers were constantly under the necessity of holding up the feeder, so to speak, and taking away from him his usual share of the run, by the effective method of outbidding him.

Domestic beef consumption is gaining volume in gratifying fashion, even under the depressing influence of prices that have provoked eloquent protest in consumptive circles.

Many Women who are Splendid Cooks dread having to prepare an elaborate dinner because they are not sufficiently strong to stand over an intensely hot coal range. This is especially true in summer. Every woman takes pride in the table she sets, but often it is done at tremendous cost to her own vitality through the weakening effect of cooking on a coal range in a hot kitchen.

It is no longer necessary to wear yourself out preparing a fine dinner. Even in the heat of summer you can cook a large dinner without being worn out.

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

Gives no outside heat, no smell, no smoke. It will cook the biggest dinner without heating the kitchen or the cook. It is immediately lighted and immediately extinguished. It can be changed from a slow to a quick fire by turning a handle. There's no draggery connected with it, no coal to carry, no wood to chop. You don't have to wait fifteen or twenty minutes till the fire gets going. Apply a light and it's ready. By simply turning the wick up or down you get a slow or an intense heat on the bottom of the pot, pan, kettle or oven, and nowhere else. It has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot, drop shelves for coffee, teapot or saucepan, and even a rack for towels. It saves time, energy, health and temper. It does all a woman needs and more than she expects. Made with 1, 2, and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner sizes can be had with or without Cabinet.

NEW VIEW OF THE CHILD

Educators of the Present Day Work Systematically to Develop the Infant Mind.

The child used to exist for the sake of the school. The school, like most of our institutions, now exists for the sake of the child. And the attitude of educators toward the growing mind has changed vastly. The idea of evolution has wrought the change. And so the child of the present has a far better chance to develop his full powers with a minimum of loss than any of the predecessors have had since man rose up and walked on two feet.

There is wondrous breadth in this new view of the child. No longer is the boy or girl seen as a mere personal unit, a domino mind or soul that can be taken as a putty ball and molded at will. The mind is not so simple or definite, the task is not so easy. The teacher now knows that he faces more than the single mind before him; he has to deal with all the millions of minds that have been in the child's illimitable past.

Like the iceberg, of which only a little is seen above the surface of the water, so but a small part of the child's mind appears. There is a little consciousness rising clear from the depths; underneath is the vast, mysterious reach of the instinct, the inheritance from the vanished life of the world's past.

ABOUT THE BUSINESS WOMAN

Independence Need Not in Any Way Detract from Feminine Refinement.

From my work I have become convinced that because a woman achieves financial and mental independence, it by no means follows that she need lose a whit of her feminine perceptions and refinements. As I think over the long list of splendid women of all ages and conditions whom I have known in the business world it seems to me it would be difficult to find an equal who possess more of the spirit of true womanliness. And by true womanliness I mean not alone nobility of character, but all those delicate personalities of mind, body and soul which are and always will be the everlasting joy and distinction of the woman. There comes to my mind in this connection a certain gentleman of my acquaintance who for over twenty years has worked in the office of a certain concern, and though her work is essentially masculine in its nature, and her days are passed entirely among men, he never knows a gentler or more delicate personality than hers. Violets, which she keeps always on her desk, are quite as fitting to her in the environments of an office as they would be had she never passed out of the luxurious surrounding of her youth.—Eleanor B. Richardson, in the Bookkeeper.

What We're Coming To

Senator Dewey, at the recent bachelors' cotillion in Washington, praised the growth of advertisement. "Advertisement," he said, "has made many a man, many a book, many a commodity. But how much farther will it go?"

"Verily," said Senator Dewey, "I can imagine a stormy night in the near future, with March winds howling across foaming seas, and with the curtains of a hard-pressed ship shouting to him mate from the bridge: 'Is that Punk's Pills?'"

"Aye, aye, sir, with Gibraltar Pants shining to leeward, the mate will reply. 'We'll weather Peerless Type-writer Rock, then, after all, the captain turns.'"

"That we will, sir, heaven be praised," says the mate cheerfully, for already Cann's Cod Liver Oil Light is beginning to show up on our lee!"

In the Old Days

Fifteen years ago here in New York 28 cents a pound was the price for best "Belmont" steak, those triangular ones that are on the rib end of a hind quarter, and have no tenderloin on. Fifteen years ago farmers used to kill beef at home, haul it into the village and peddle it out among the housewives, weighing it on an old-fashioned pair of steelyard scales. They would sell the whole soup bone shank for 25 cents, round steak at eight cents, and the choicest cuts at most for 12 to 15 cents a pound. I never knew of any of these farmers getting rich, and believe they lost money on every yearling they killed.—New York Times.

He Explains

"I haven't seen you for some years. What business are you in?"

"I'm on the stage, doing a musical turn."

"You had a poor ear for music when a boy."

"And have yet. I can only play 'Annie Laurie,' and I can't play that very well."

"How do you get by with it?"

"It's very simple. I play it on a stovepipe, on clam shells, on coffee pots and on a cigar-box fiddle. The result is a prime vaudeville act."

Rapid Fire.

Father (angrily)—How often did you see me tell you, miss? Daughter (innocently)—I don't know, papa. I'm not a lightning calculator.

Uncle Allen.

"A preacher who draws a big salary," said Uncle Allen Sparks, "sometimes gets a tempting offer to go somewhere and give a lecture, and he asks a college young man who is studying for the ministry to all his pulpit for one Sunday. The college young man does it, and all he gets is thanks. Such things happen sometimes, and I suppose it's all right. I'm only kidding because the young chap lets that sort of game be played on him, by jinks."—Chicago Tribune.

Going Back on His Colors.

A Harvard football player after the recent unfortunate encounter with Yale thought he would escape the public eye by cutting across the fields. A big bull, which looked as if it could do good work in a mass play, bobbed up and cast an evil eye upon the jersey of Harvard crimson.

"Why didn't I take father's advice," the young man reflected, "and go to Yale. This is no place for a Harvard man."—Success Magazine.

UNCOVERED A BURIED TOWN

Arizona Farmer May Have Discovered One of the Mythical Seven Cities.

Every once in awhile excavation in southern Arizona results in the discovery of a buried village. The most recent discovery of this kind was made by Frank Erwin at his home, 14 miles from Cochise.

Three miles from his ranch Erwin started to dig an irrigation ditch. As he went on he found that he began to uncover a surface and material which indicated that they had been used by a race probably as old as the Chibchas, that strange people whose "Seven Famous Cities" was the lure that brought "father Nita" and the negro Estevanico from the Spanish mission at Culiacan north along the Sonora river to the old city of Tabac, near Tucson, which expedition was the beginning of civilization in Arizona.

After digging deeper Erwin came across a wall, which he followed for 30 feet. Further investigation brought to light a hundred of bones well preserved, one skeleton being intact. When an attempt was made to take up the skeleton it fell to pieces. Among the treasures unearthed was a slab on which were written curious figures representing men and animals. Erwin took several of the bones to the Smithsonian Institution.

DICTIONARIES UP TO DATE

Slang Phrases That Become Popular Are Incorporated in Their Pages at Once.

"Talk about keeping up with the times," said the professor, "the makers of dictionaries have to be up to the very minute. I don't believe a day passes without some new word being introduced into our language. For most of them the originators of slang—delightfully original fellows, aren't they?—and the men of science are responsible. I was reading over the other day a list of new words assembled for the latest dictionary, and I declare I was amazed at the number that were, in truth, new to me. Did you know, for example, that the potato is the name given to the cross between the tomato and the potato, that a grasshopper destroyer is called a hopperdozer, and that the scientific term for hookworm is underrunaria? Speaking of slang, I notice that place has been found in the dictionary for rubberneck, stunt, tank up and fan—of course," the professor added somewhat hurriedly, "I mean a baseball fan. And there are hundreds and hundreds more."

There Was a Reason

When a negro was arrested the other day for wandering around the streets, he wore one of those innocent smiles. When he was taken before Magistrate Briggs he was still smiling.

"What's your name?" asked the magistrate.

"Ah don't know, sah," smiled the negro.

"Where do you live?"

"Ah don't know, sah."

"Where do you work?"

"At the Tom hotel, sah."

The magistrate thought that perhaps there was some truth in the negro's place of employment, so he thought he would see if the negro knew any of the students in the college near this particular hotel.

"Do you know any of the students at Tom college?"

"No, sah," answered the negro, his smile bigger than ever. "Ah nudder goes in da bar!"—Philadelphia Times.

Looking Backward

On the night following the Yale-Princeton game last fall, a young man who had slipped and fallen was assisted to his feet by a passer-by. Just a little salutation of victory, the young man explained as he waved a bedraggled bit of orange and bag ribbon.

"But Princeton lost," the other told him.

The young man looked painfully surprised for an instant.

"How do you know?" he asked.

"Why, it was on the bulletin board an hour ago," the other said. "Yale won to-day's game."

"I wash referent," said the young man with great dignity, "to the game of 1903."—Lippincott's.

Uncle Allen

"A preacher who draws a big salary," said Uncle Allen Sparks, "sometimes gets a tempting offer to go somewhere and give a lecture, and he asks a college young man who is studying for the ministry to all his pulpit for one Sunday. The college young man does it, and all he gets is thanks. Such things happen sometimes, and I suppose it's all right. I'm only kidding because the young chap lets that sort of game be played on him, by jinks."—Chicago Tribune.

Sure Flight of Blind Pigeon

A flock of pigeons making head-quarters in a court house is nothing unusual, but when a pigeon that is blind as a bat can find its way home to the cupola of a court house it is decidedly unusual. Such, however, is the case in Lamar, as it has been discovered that one of the pigeons making headquarters over the hall of justice is as blind as the goddess in whose shrine it nests.

Nevertheless it flies back and forth as safe as you please, and has never been known to miss getting in the right crack. It is stated that when flying for the cupola it flies up fifty or seventy-five feet in the air, erects around several times, and then makes a bee line for the cupola as accurately as its master that can see—Lamar correspondence Joplin Times.

MORGAN, JR., WELL EQUIPPED

Has Had Hard Training Under Father's Guidance, and is Showing Himself Worthy.

No boy, in being forced through the hard mill of apprenticeship, ever underwent more severe training than J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., received at the hands of his father and his father's friends. When "Jack" Morgan, as he was then known, graduated from Harvard in 1899, his father was a little doubtful about his commercial ability. It was a case in which paternal affections did not tend to belittle the shortcomings of the object upon whom they were centered. To try him out, his father placed him in the banking house of Peabody & Co., at Boston, and at the expiration of two years there were such favorable reports regarding his work that he took him into his own office in New York. So far as favoritism was concerned, it was never shown him. He was made to work a little harder than any other clerk, and if he made a blunder he was not spared. He was brought up to understand that his business future depended upon his own efforts, and that if he had any desire to take his father's place in the financial world he must first show that he was capable of assuming stupendous responsibilities.—The Bookkeeper.

NEW "BIG SISTER" MOVEMENT

New York's Young Working Girls to Be Entertained, Helped and Wisely Advised.

Working on the theory that prevention is better than cure, the big sisters, who have just been appointed by the New York Mothers club, will interest itself in the entertainments and amusements of working girls on their holidays, and in young girls in the public schools.

The Big Sister movement has been patterned after the Big Brothers, though it cannot work along the same lines. Annually there are about 10,000 boys brought before the children's court to a scant thousand girls. Most of the girls are from four and five years old, who have reached there through the neglect, cruelty or other fault of their parents.

"It was a serious question—where had we best give help?" Mrs. Irwin said, "and as chairman of the committee I have decided. We will help with the school, which will supply clean, wholesome enjoyment for working girls. Any individual cases that we hear of we will help specifically."

Mrs. Irwin has two boys, both interested in the welfare of girls. She is one of the women of public school children of this city for the year 1910.—New York Evening Telegram.

Trouble for Bachelor

One of the firms that sell mailing lists to commercial houses in New York is causing a certain unmarried man no end of trouble. In some way they secured his name and got the impression that he was a wife. About a year ago advertisements began arriving at his home addressed to this mythical person. She gets notices of the exceptional order of furs, ornate cloaks, lining suits, automobiles, cut flowers, tailored suits, tickets to winter resorts, and even a motor car. He has been driven to the point of despair from finding these scattered all over his table. One of them asked him why he didn't save them all as a dowry for the young person when she finally became extinct.

"Not saved," he replied. "I'm not going to encourage any such extravagant ideas at the very start. A moderate estimate shows me that $25,000 a year would cover half the things that she is being induced to buy."

Jew High in Catholic Church

"Cardinal Kohn certainly sounds odd. Still, it may be reserved to the twentieth century to bring us such a novelty," says the American Israelite. "Dr. Theodore Kohn, son of a full blooded Jew, was in 1893 elected archbishop of the Austrian diocese of Olmutz, one of the most prominent episcopal sees of Christendom, which had occasionally been occupied by members of the imperial family, and which for three hundred years had been reserved to members of the highest aristocracy. In 1903 charges were filed against him in Rome, and while the material was not sufficient to try him for malfeasance, Pius X. induced him to resign. The stipulations of the compromise were never made public, but it was understood that he would be given a cardinalate. There seems, however, to be little chance where, but the archbishop insists on the fulfillment of the promises made to him."

Little Planting of Tobacco Yet Done.

E. T. Robards, inspector of sales for the Lexington tobacco market, and who devotes much time and attention to keeping closely informed as to condition and prospects of the tobacco crop in the white Burley belt, makes the following summary of the present situation:

"The past week has almost been filled with showers, too much so to suit the needs of the farmers. What they need now is sunshine. Some tobacco has been planted, but not a free general planting such as there will be this week if there is less rain and more sunshine. I hear of one planter who has set out thirty acres, but this is exceptional. So far most of those who have planted have done so in a small way. This week will find plants sufficiently far advanced to admit of a free and general planting.

"Some counties claim a shortage in plants, but I do not believe this can be true to any material extent. On the contrary, while usually a few may so report, in the windup usually there are enough plants to plant two crops. "I hear from Grant county a report of damage by cut worms to tobacco already planted; this cannot amount to any shortage in acreage, for it is too early to damage, save in the trouble of replanting. If there has been much planted then (and I doubt it) it can be replanted next week, and then there will be abundance of time.

"Clark county seems to have planted but little so far, the plants are a trifle slow getting proper size, but none claim a shortage."

No Legal Grounds for Interfering With Fight.

The attitude of the law officers of San Francisco towards the Jeffries-Johnson fight has been definitely settled by District Attorney Fickert, who declared there was no legal grounds for interfering.

"If the contestants comply with the provisions of the code and the ordinance," he said, "it is not within my power, the power of the police department or of the Sheriff to prohibit the fight. I have read the articles of agreement between Jeffries and Johnson, and they are in all respects within the statutes.

"It is impossible for me to pre-determine whether there will be a violation of the statute or not. If, during the fight the principals or their representatives violate the law, they will be punished. As has been stated by the courts, both in this country and in England, it is a question for a jury to determine whether if such a contest is a sparring match or a prize fight. If a majority of the people of the State of California are against professional sparring exhibitions the remedy lies with the Legislature." While in consultation with Chief of Police Martin on the policing of the big fight, Tex Rickard was informed of the decision of the District Attorney. He expressed himself as delighted and said the promoters would begin detailed preparations for the contest immediately.

The decision of the District Attorney was given in reply to a request of the Church Federation that he take steps to prevent the fight.

Poolers Meet at Georgetown.

The pooling campaign in the Blue Grass was opened at Georgetown Saturday afternoon with a show of enthusiasm highly gratifying to the leaders of the Burley Tobacco Society. Between six and seven hundred growers attended a meeting in the Court-house at which addresses were made by President Clarence LeBus and Vice President A. L. Ferguson, of the Society; Joel B. Fort, of Tennessee; Jefferson D. Clark, of Fayette, and John Noel, of Franklin county.

An invitation to any pool opponents, or any dissatisfied with the conduct of this or former pooling movements to speak, was not accepted by any present, and votes supporting majority rule and support of the Society in this pool, were unanimous in the affirmative.

Champ Clark Sounds Battle Cry of Democratic Campaign.

Denouncing the Payne-Aldrich tariff law as a "transparent humbug," attacking the tariff views of its author, Representative Sereno Payne, Republican, of New York, and vigorously assailing President Taft for his support of that law, Representative Champ Clark, of Missouri, leader of the Democratic minority, on Saturday delivered in the House what is regarded as the Democratic key-note speech of the coming Congressional campaign.

Mr. Clark had prepared his address with great care and spoke at length, giving facts and figures in support of his contention that the tariff had not been honestly revised and that the Republican majority in Congress had endeavored to trick the people. Mr. Clark also paid his respects incidentally to the $250,000 item in the Sundry Civil appropriation bill for the creation of a tariff board.

Winchester Boy Missing.

Leslie Haggard, the 17-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Haggard, who live about seven miles from Winchester on the Mulby Creek pike has disappeared from his home and no trace of his whereabouts can be found. The boy retired with the rest of the family Saturday night. About 10 o'clock Mr. Haggard awoke and found that his son had disappeared. Police officers were called by telephone and asked to locate him. It was learned that he had placed his horse and buggy in a livery stable, with no instructions in regard to them. The parents are greatly worried, though it is probably that the lad has gone to Texas where he had often expressed an intention of going.

Owingsville Man Assaulted.

Ben Sneegar, a young man living two miles east of Owingsville, started home at an early hour Sunday morning. When in the eastern end of town he was set upon by four young negroes, who knocked him down and rifled his pockets, securing about $5, all the money he had with him. He said he recognized one of his assailants to be Bill Kaufman and had him arrested. Sneegar was considerably bruised up. He had a big roll of money Saturday afternoon, but fortunately he left it with a friend here for safe keeping.

GREAT LACK IN BEDS.

Will Take 45 Years at Present Rate to Care for All Consumptives.

At the present rate of increase, nearly forty-five years must elapse before sufficient hospital accommodations to provide for all the indigent consumptives in the United States will be provided, declares the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis in a bulletin issued to-day.

Although over 7,000 beds in hospitals, sanatoria, camps and wards for tuberculosis patients were established last year, there are fully 300,000 indigent consumptives who ought to be placed in such institutions and a total of only 22,720 beds in the entire country. On May 1, 1909, there were 15,244 beds for consumptives and 294 institutions. The annual report of the National Association shows an increase of 99 institutions and 7,500 beds.

In seven states, Alabama, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oklahoma, Wyoming, and Utah, with a combined population of 5,000,000, not 1 bed for consumptives has been provided. In nine states and territories, Alaska, Delaware, Florida, Kansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, South Dakota, Vermont, and West Virginia, the number of beds for consumptives in each case is less than 50, while the combined population of these states is over 7,000,000. On the basis of 400 deaths to a million of population, which is approximately the present rate in the United States, there would be nearly 5,000 deaths annually from tuberculosis in these fourteen states with at least 20,000 cases of this disease all the time, and less than 500 beds to care for them.

New York state leads in the number of beds for consumptives provided up to May 1st with 5,476 beds; Massachusetts is second with 2,403 beds; Pennsylvania, third with 2,347 beds; Colorado, fourth with 1,489 beds; and New Mexico fifth with 1,104 beds. As yet, not one state in the country has made adequate provision for its consumptives. New York has set itself the task of having "No uncare for Tuberculosis in 1915," and several cities in other parts of the country have adopted similar programs. The National Association says that tuberculosis will not be stamped out until all cases of this disease are cared for either in their homes or in institutions. With this end in view, efforts will be made to increase the number of hospital beds in this country to at least 35,000 by May 1, 1911.

W. S. Lloyd's New Departure.

After two months of remarkable sales, W. S. Lloyd, the enterprising druggist, says that his plan of selling at half price the regular 50 cent size of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, and guaranteeing to refund the money if it does not cure, has been the greatest success he has ever known.

He has sold hundreds of bottles of the specific; and as yet has not had one returned, although he stands ready at any time to refund the money should any customer be dissatisfied.

Anyone suffering with dyspepsia, constipation, liver troubles, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, or the general tired feeling, caused by inactive liver and bowels or disordered digestion, should take advantage of W. S. Lloyd's new departure. 46-48.

FLAG DAY

Governor Fixes June 14 as Flag Day.

Gov. Willson has issued a Flag day proclamation, calling attention to the anniversary of the birth of the flag and suggesting that everybody show allegiance to the flag on that and all days. The proclamation is as follows:

"To the People of Kentucky: The American Flag Association, organized to perpetuate the love of our people for the flag and the earnest, patriotic spirit which that love strengthens, sends its reminder that Tuesday, June 14, 1910, will be the one hundred and thirty-third anniversary of the adoption of the stars and stripes as the flag of the United States.

"I call upon all of our people to join in cherishing the love of the flag June 14. I order that the flag be displayed on all State buildings and invite the celebration of the day. I call upon the Mayors of our cities to recognize this anniversary and order flags to be displayed upon the municipal buildings of their cities, and by proclamation invite their fellow-citizens to do the same upon their private buildings.

"I appeal to the newspapers to cherish the interest of our people in this anniversary of the birth of the flag by local articles, editorial comment, historical articles upon the subject of the flag and appeals to the people to display the colors on Flag day.

"I call upon all school officers and teachers to arrange patriotic exercises appropriate to the day. I appeal to all patriotic societies throughout the State and to all State officers to stir the public heart by their exercises upon this day, and I call upon all citizens to join in the public recognition of the birthday of our flag, and I call upon all to herald the coming and celebration of Flag day, June 14, 1910, and to fling the Stars and Stripes to the breeze everywhere throughout all the State, from every church, school and building, public and private, and from every home throughout the entire Commonwealth.

"It will be a beautiful tribute for the pupils in every school to salute the flag and pledge allegiance to the flag and the republic for which it stands, and I call upon every good Kentucky American to always salute the flag whenever it meets his eye, to take off his hat and rest it over his heart. We cannot too often be reminded nor too often remind each other of what that flag stands for."

"Augustus E. Willson,"
 "Governor of Kentucky."

How to Pay for Good Roads.

It is good business sense for any township to build hard roads on its most important highways. No better use can be made of the same amount of money, but to do this by levying an annual tax year by year, and with the proceeds build from a half to a mile and a half of road, with the plan of continuing this from year to year until 20 miles or more have been built, is laudable, but it is not the best way to finance the proposition. In most townships there are approximately 20 miles of main roads. If these are built piece-meal as indicated the cost will be 20 to 25 per cent more than it would be to build the whole lot at once. In this all the roads will be new to begin with and the construction will be better because the job is large enough to attract the best contractors, and the townships can afford to have rigid inspection and skilled supervision. The roads will all wear together and serve the community far better than to build by installments.

To do this it will be necessary to issue long-time bonds, and provision should be made so the payment can be extended over 20 or 30 years, so that those who come after us and have the benefit of the roads will help pay for them. The only objection that is ever urged to a plan of this kind is that the funds will draw interest. That is true, but on the other hand by paying the interest we have the use of the roads, and if the use of the roads is not worth more than the interest on the bonds it would not pay to build them at all. Then again if the roads are well built and with a moderate cost for repairs, which is considerably less than the expense of maintaining earth roads in good condition, they would last a generation, and there is no reason why those who come after us and have the benefit of these roads, should not help pay the bonds. The present generation will have paid the interest on the bonds, maintained the roads and contributed something toward a sinking fund to pay the bonds. It is equitable, fair and good business sense to build the roads by bond issues.

THE REASON WHY

Vinol

The state ought to contribute at least one-half the expense of permanent improvement placed on highways. Twenty states are doing this, and by this plan the cost of building the roads, whether by an annual tax or bond issue, is spread fairly over all the people and all the property. When this is done the burden will never be felt.
